SHAHER, BIRCHENOUGH

Candidate for Attorney - General Discusses Losses in Various Industries

The Independent campaign closed
in Bismarck Saturday night with a red-fire parade and addresses at the auditorium by P. G. Harrington,
George F. Shafer, and Rev. Allen
Birchough. Leaders in the campaign are devoting their last hours
to completing their organization work. The polls open at 9 o'clock in the morning and close at 8 o'clock at night.

The parade was staged by the O'Connor-Nestos club. Formed at the Bank of North Dakota building
the parade passed west on Main street and back on Broadway to the Auditorium. Included were marchers carrying torches, floats reproducing the Werner creamery and William Lemke's house, the Drake
mill and Andy Gump. The Mandan band led the parade and drums helped increase the noise.

Mr. Harrington opened the speaking at the Auditorium, followed by George F. Shafer, candidate for attorney general. Shafer devoted his address to a comparison of the record of the league and Nestos administrators, discussing the losses in the Home Builders Association, Drake mill and other enterprises and condemning the Nestos administration
for the sale of bail warrants,
bonds, management of the farm loan
department of the Bank of North Dakota and other acts.

Rev. Birchough's address was devoted mainly to a plea for the election of J. F. T. O'Connor. He said that he was a Methodist and O'Connor
was a K. of C.; that he was a Britisher and O'Connor was an Irishman, and that he was going to vote for O'Connor because he was anti-socialist. He declared he knew him to be an upright man.
He accused Frazier of being controlled by Townley and Lemke.

Goes Into Details.
Mr. Shafer went into detail in his discussion of the business management of the state affairs. The losses in the Home Builders association, he said, may reach a figure far beyond that shown by the audit, which he said was over $150,000. He referred to the decision of Judge Pugh in the Wallace case, which case is now in the supreme court. If the state loses
this case, he said, the taxpayers will be called upon to pay up another $200,000 or $250,000 deficit in the association. If the state wins, it loses $150,000, because some of those for whom houses were built refuse to take them at the price the state demands, and in one instance in Fargo where the state was forced to sell one of the houses it bought $2,000 less than it cost the state to build it. He said that the state could not force collection of all the money on many, naming W. G. Johnson, formerly manager of the Consumers Union Stores. He said that Mr. Johnson had written the state stating that he could not pay the full amount of the house and asking the state to return what he had already paid.

"What does the present administration say of this business?" he asked. "I find it in the platform of September 6. It says the state shall clean up this business as quickly as possible, and then get out of this business and stay out."

He referred to the losses of the Drake mill and the minutes of the Industrial Commission, and declared that Frazier, Lemke and Hagan were the men most responsible for all of
the difficulties of the league administration.

Home Builders Idea.
The Home Builders idea, Mr. Shafer
said, sprang from Walter Thomas and others, and was not in response to a demand of the citizens.

BANDITS LOOT
SAFETY BOXES

(By the Associated Press)
Fargo, N. D., Nov. 6.—Bandits
Saturday entered the safety vault of
the McGregor (Williams County) State bank and made away with the contents of a nest of safety deposit
boxes according to a telephone communication to W. C. Macfadden, secretary of the State Bankers' Association here. The call came from elsewhere than McGregor, leading
him to believe wires had been cut.
No details were given.

MISS DALY IS CONFIDENT ON ELECTION EVE

(By the Associated Press)
Madison, S. D., Nov. 6.—Miss Alice Lorraine Daly, Nonpartisan league
candidate for Governor of South Dakota, ending an extended speaking tour through the state, was back home in Madison today. She will end her campaign tonight with a speech at the Nonpartisan league rally in Mitchell. Miss Daly, on returning home, expressed confidence in the favorable outcome of the election Tuesday, saying that she felt sure the count of ballots would show
an appreciable increase in the strength of the party in this state.
During her speaking tour the candidate has spoken in nearly all of the cities of the state and in each
she has utilized spare time to visit
nearby towns for short addresses.

The long tour apparently had no ill effects upon Miss Daly. She seemed in very good health and spirits
and spoke smilingly of the inconvenience of the journey.

EXPECT SNOW
IN WESTERN
N. D. TONIGHT

Storm Center Now Passing
And No Severe Storm Is Expected, Says Bureaus

TOMORROW COLDER

Fairly Good Weather Tomorrow Indicated in Western
N. D.; Uncertain in Valley

SNOW IN WESTERN S. D.
Deadwood, S. D., Nov. 6.—Nearly three feet of snow fell here
in less than 24 hours yesterday,
completely paralyzing traffic
and communication with the outside world for a time. Trains on the Chicago & Northwestern railroad were blocked by the heavy drifts. The passenger train from the south on the Chicago,
Burlington and Quincy railroad
finally came in at a late hour
last night. Today the storm is over and the sun is shining. Old residents here say this was the most severe snow storm which has visited the Black Hills at this time of year.

Some snow in Bismarck and the western part of the state but fair weather tomorrow was the prediction
at noon today of the Bismarck weather bureau.

The storm center which resulted in high winds here last night was passing over the city today and it was expected the wind would die
down considerably tonight, there would be some, but not a great deal
of snow, and election day would dawn fair and colder.

At 7 o'clock this morning it was snowing at Williston. The report gave the precipitation at 82, which would be about six inches here, but belief was expressed here that most of this was rain. West in Montana
it was fair with little or no snow.

There is more apt to be a snowstorm in the eastern part of the state
tonight or tomorrow than in the western part, according to the weather bureau officials.

The weather observer at Moorhead declared the worst snow storm of the year is marching southeastward over the Dakotas and will be raging in North and South Dakota tonight.

DIVORCE TANGLE
CAUSES ARRESTS

(By the Associated Press)
Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 6.—Atlanta authorities last night were informed of the arrest of Mrs. Fredericka Pace, said to be the widow of a wealthy New York inventor, in Jacksonville, Fla., and Lynwood L.
Bright, in Macon, Ga. Both Bright and Mrs. Pace are former residents of New York, where they are promi-nently connected, according to officials.

The investigations and subsequent arrests were made at the request of Mrs. Bright, it was stated. The wife of the arrested man had been playing the role of detective, it was asserted.

Bright, according to information
from Macon, has filed suit for divorce while Mrs. Bright is said to be suing Mrs. Pace for $50,000 damages in New York courts for alleged alienation of her husband's affection.

Judge Miller
Refuses Hildreth
Special Jury

(By the Associated Press)
Fargo, N. D., Nov. 6.—Federal Judge Andrew Miller has refused
United States district attorney M. A.
Hildreth's plea for a special federal grand jury to investigate alleged crime conditions at Minot, Colonel Hildreth said today. He had asked a jury to investigate criminal gangs
which Canadian officials recently charged were headquartered in Mi-not.

RED CROSS TO HAVE ANNUAL MEMBER CALL

Will Start in Burleigh County
The Week After Armistice
Day.. Nov. 11

COMMITTEE NAMED

Service Men to Lead Campaign in Recognition of Work of Organization

"Every American everywhere a member of the Red Cross" is the slogan
for the Red Cross, Roll Call
which will begin Armistice Day, Nov.
11, and close Thanksgiving day, Nov.
30, under the National leadership of Judge John Barton Payne, chairman
of the American Red Cross. Philip Elliott, chairman, Henry T. Murphy and George Little form the committee for Burleigh county.

Nearly 4,000 veterans or their families have been aided by loans from the North Dakota Red Cross, to enable them to maintain their families
while in the hospital or while receiving vocational training.

"The 53 chapters and 16,228 members of the Flickertail state are inspiring every county from the Red River of the North to the slopes of the Missouri higher head waters
and from the Canadian boundary
southward to fulfill its obligations to the World War veterans or to other community welfare service," Walter Davidson, manager of Central Division has said.

Twenty-two Red Cross public health nurses have helped improve health conditions of the state especially in the isolation of rural life.
They have examined approximately 30,000 children to detect physical defects that are impairing their efficiency.

The Junior Red Cross.
With the motto "I serve," Junior Red Cross members consisting of over 19,000 school children of North Dakota have made wash cloths and other conveniences for the disabled soldiers in hospitals. They have also made scrap books and filled
Christmas boxes for the destitute
children of Europe.

North Dakota has known the Disaster Relief service of the Red Cross
through the aid extended to its drought sufferers for more than two years.

Starts After Nov. 11.
Burleigh county roll call will start
during the week following Armistice Day.

Care of disabled soldiers and sailors, disaster relief, public health nursing, first aid, home hygiene and other service works are performed by the American Red Cross in times of peace.

More than 145,000 persons rendered homeless or needing assistance
and over $30,000,000 property damage in the 72 disasters, including 26
floods, 19 tornadoes or storms, 15
fires, four epidemics, two theater collapses, two shipwrecks (one an airship), a bridge collapse, mine explosion, railway collision and drought,
in which 674 persons were reported killed and 521 injured were aided by the American Red Cross. For these emergency relief measures, $1,411,- 486 was expended during the year ending June 30, 1922.

Helps Veterans Bureau.
"The Red Cross acquires and distributes information among the men and their families, acquaints the U. S. Veterans' Bureau with the personal equation in individual cases;
prepares and furnishes comforts,
recreation, and the many necessary
services which the government can procure only from the voluntary assistance," said Judge Payne. "These obligations and privileges fall primarily to the Red Cross chapters."
More than 25,000 veterans will be under treatment in government hospitals on Armistice Day of this year.

"As a medium of communication between the American people and their Army and Navy," service is rendered in the government welfare
program in investigation of home
conditions of enlisted men at the request of authorities, locating men
in handling business difficulties and family problems, furnishing entertainment and recreation for convalescents in Red Cross convalescent houses and in friendly visits to the sick and disabled.

In the Near East, Dr. B. J. Hill, a resident of Athens for 18 years and a member of the former Red Cross Commission to Greece, will supervise distribution of much needed blankets, clothing, medical supplies and food, in co-operation with the American Relief committee at Athens.
More than 100,000 refugees in Athens, 40,000 in Salonika and thousands pouring into these cities are in need of aid.

DIES FROM INJURIES.
Three Rivers, Mich., Nov. 6.—Eugene Alber, 19, halfback of the local high school football team was injured in the Three Rivers Coldwater game Tuesday, died of his injuries Saturday.

KIN AID CLARA PHILLIPS

Clara Phillips is getting full moral support from her relatives in her trial at Los Angeles for the "hammer slaying" of Mrs. Alberta Meadows.
Her husband, Armour L. Phillips, and her sister, Ella May Weaver, are here shown as they entered the courthouse to attend the trial. Phillips, in a statement during the trial, blamed himself for the tragedy.

TURKS SEND ULTIMATUM
TO ALLIED COMMISSION
ON MOVEMENT OF CRUISERS

(By the Associated Press)
Constantinople, Nov. 6.—The Turkish nationalist government has handed a note to the allied high commissioners
here to the effect that the warships of all nations must ask
it for authorization to pass the straits of the Dardanelles, the Havas correspondent has been informed. They must also salute the new government of Turkey.

(By the Associated Press)
London, Nov. 6.—As a result of the new situation created in Constantinople by the demand of Rafet Pasha, that the allied military occupation of the city cease, the peace conference called to be held at Lausanne Nov. 13, has been postponed, possibly for a fortnight, it was announced here today.

HIGHWAYMEN
KILL TWO AND
ROB STORE

Clinton, Ia., Nov. 6.—Homer
Brownfield, 48, and his wife, 38,
were slain again in their little wayside store on the Lincoln highway six miles west of here.

Brownfield had been shot through the head. His wife, who evidently had attempted to escape, was pursued and clubbed about the head with an iron bar. She was still breathing
when a chance morning customer discovered her, but died within a few minutes.

The murderers jerked the gasoline lamps from their hangings but for some reason the lamps did not set fire to the store. The slayers rifled at least one of the two tills in the store.

LLOYD GEORGE
DEFENDS REGIME

London, Nov. 6.—Former Prime Minister Lloyd George in delivering his first popular address in London
since the fall of the Coalition cabinet
made a strong defense of the late government's policy and pleaded for a vigorous middle course, free
from both revolution and reaction which he described as equally dangerous to the interest of the nation.

The ex-premier spoke in a motion picture theater to a crowd of 3,000 persons, all of whom had been able to make their way into the building
out of a throng of some 25,000 persons who had applied for admission.

TWO AVIATORS
MEET DEATH

Lake Charles, La., Nov. 6.—Lieutenant R. C. Wilyard and C. G. Zarzass of Fort Bliss, El Paso, Texas,
were killed today when an army airplane they were making a flight in
from Fort Bliss to Long Island, N. Y., crashed to the ground near Vinton,
La., according to reports reaching here.

APPOINTMENT TO ACADEMY GIVEN

The Navy Department has notified
Senator E. F. Ladd that there is a vacancy in the United States Naval Academy to which he is entitled to nominate a principal and three alternates, the candidates to be examined February 7, 1923 or April 18, 1923, to submit certificates from schools or colleges for exemption from the mental examination. For further information, write to Hon.
E. F. Ladd, United States Senate,
Washington, D. C. Those desiring to become candidates should apply
at once, as the vacancy is to be filled without delay.

APPOINTS NEGRO
(By the Associated Press)
Washington, Nov. 6.—Walter L.
Cohen, negro Republican leader of Louisiana, was appointed by President Harding to be comptroller of the mint with headquarters at
New Orleans, La.

Politicians
Watch Weather
With Interest

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 6.—Rain and bad weather continued in the state today but it was the politicians and voters who were watching it with interest this time not the agricultural men.

Both Nonpartisans and Independents were busy with day before election activities, especially the former, slightly worried over the condition of the roads which are bad
and will tend, it is generally agreed,
to prevent more farmer members of the league from voting than members of the other faction.

Both sides are confident however and both predict victory, the independents predicting a big victory
for themselves in the gubernatorial
and a safe one in the senatorial
race while the leaguers claim to see
a large victory in the senatorial
contest and a possibly smaller one
in the vote for governor.

National interest continues in the contest to see whether Lynn J.
Frazier, republican leaguer and recalled as governor about a year ago or J. T. E. O'Connor, Democrat
and a safe one in the senatorial
race while the leaguers claim to see
a large victory in the senatorial
contest and a possibly smaller one
in the vote for governor.

COMMERCE CLUB
PLAN O. K.'S AT MEETING TODAY

Members of Executive Committee Named Endorse Plan for Campaign

CITES CLUB'S NEED

J. H. McLaughlin Outlines
Plans on Which Membership Campaign Is Based

The campaign inaugurated in Bismarck for an enlarged Commercial and Civic club was outlined to members of the executive committee at a noon luncheon today by J. H. Mc-Laughlin, campaign manager, and unanimously approved. Immediately after the election tomorrow the forces of the committee will be concentrated on the campaign.

Mr. McLaughlin explained the need of increasing the club income to meet the demands of the membership, the building up of the program from the suggestions of members, and the democratic method of electing directors by which every member has a voice.

The first of community meetings
planned to be held was announced.
The first will be on November 9th,
when Russell H. Brady of Pontiac, Mich., a nationally known speaker,
will address citizens together with local speakers.

Another meeting will be held on November 16th which will be an informal dinner for both men and women.

Chairman E. B. Cox was asked to name two others on a committee to get the assistance of two others to pick colonels and majors for the membership campaign to be held.
There were 18 members of the executive committee present at the luncheon.

YOU'RE INVITED TO TRIBUNE'S
BIG PARTY

While the job of gathering election returns
taxes the staff of The Tribune, nevertheless The Tribune is going to give a party election night,
throwing the returns on a screen opposite the building. You're all invited.

The party will start
probably about 8:30 p. m.
While the polls in North Dakota do not close until 9 p. m. they close earlier in the east and with the advantage in time and the fact that voting machines
are used the Associated Press wire into The Tribune office will be carrying returns from New York State and other eastern centers.

Because The Tribune
has larger news facilities
than do most cities the size of Bismarck, The Tribune can give better service than can many newspapers in cities of the same size, and it hopes the election party
will be a real success.

EXPLOSION
BLOCKS WAY
TO ENTRANCE

Most of Miners Caught Are Married—Wives Gather
About Shaft

SCORES TO RESCUE
U. S. Bureau Sends Equipment
To Aid in Reaching Victims

RECOVER 25 BODIES
Spangler, Nov. 6.—Twenty-five bodies had been recovered at three o'clock and six living, some of whom will die.

Spangler, Pa., Nov. 6.—Ninety-five men are reported to have been entombed in the Reilly mine of the Reilly Coal Company near here
this morning. The men, it was said,
had just entered when an explosion
occurred, which it was believed blocked entrances.

The extent of the explosion has not been determined, but at the office of the company it was said it had been "pretty bad."

Mine rescue cars were at once ordered from Pittsburgh and some point in New York state, while news
of the explosion, spreading rapidly
through this region brought scores of miners to help in the work of rescue. They were being organized by trained leaders and were ready in two hours to take the places of the first shift when it came out of the mines.

Most of the men who went to work this morning were married and reside in this vicinity. The news of the explosion brought their wives and children to the shaft
mouth where they gathered in dumb
horror, hoping against hope.

The shaft, which is about 200 feet deep was not damaged by the explosion and the cage continued to operate. It was said by mine authorities that one of the main enteries was blocked by falling debris about 500 feet from the foot of the shaft.

There is a "man way" which make another entrance to the mine but whether the entombed men had been cut off from it had not been determined.

Silent groups of wet eyed women
and children hurried together close to the mouth of the shaft, mutely awaiting a gleam of hope from the miners who went down to search for their husbands and fathers. A steady rain was falling but the women,
many of them bareheaded, paid little attention to the weather.

The mine rescue car arrived in Spangler schedule time early this afternoon and the experts from the bureau of mines at Pittsburgh went underground shortly before two o'clock. Six living miners terribly burned, and four bodies have been brought to the surface thus far.

Spangler, Pa., Nov. 6.—A terrific explosion somewhere in the workings in the Reilly mine of the Reilly
Coal Company here at 7:30 o'clock
this morning entombed between 90
and 95 miners who had gone to their work scarcely half an hour before Superintendent O. J. Flanagan at once organized a rescue party from employees in the vicinity and entered
the mine.

(By the Associated Press)
Spangler, Pa., Nov. 6.—The first rescue party to enter the Reilly coal mine after the explosion this morning reported at noon today that they had found three bodies and fear that some, if not all of the other 90 men
entombed are dead.

ORDER OUT RESCUERS
Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 6.—The mine rescue section of the bureau
of mines was notified this morning
of an explosion in the Reilly mine near Spangler, Pa., and ordered a rescue car from this place to proceed to the mine without delay.
Another car which is now in New York state also was ordered to Spangler. First reports were that 95 men had been entombed.

The Reilly mine is a shaft some 500 feet deep and normally employes about 125 men. It is owned by Joseph H. Reilly Company of Philadelphia and produces about 125,000
tons a year.

RESCUE TRAIN ARRIVES.
Cresson, Pa., Nov. 6.—A special mine rescue train from Pittsburgh arrived here at 12:45 o'clock and departed for Spangler on a clear track.
When the special train left here
the members of the rescue force
were donning their equipment.
They intended to dash from the train
and into the mine immediately upon arrival.

The rescuers received a report here
that 28 bodies had been taken from
the mine.

B. H. S. TRIMS WILLISTON; TO MEET FARGO

OFFICIALS IN DISPUTE OVER CONTEST PLACE

Bismarck Wants Game Played Here Friday Afternoon According to Agreement

FARGO WIRES AN OFFER

Wants Bismarck Team, Conquerors of Williston, to Play There Saturday

Gridiron warriors of Bismarck and Fargo high schools will settle the state championship this week.

Bismarck high school officials announced that in accordance with the agreement made when the high school board of control ordered Bismarck and Fargo to play for the state championship without considering Williston or Cavalier they expect the game to be played in Bismarck next Friday afternoon.

Fargo also wants the game played there next Saturday. B. C. Tighe, principal of the Fargo high school, today wired Bismarck officials a guarantee of $500, and also guaranteed competent officials, if the game is played in Fargo next Saturday. The Bismarck officials had already raised the previous guarantee of $250 made by Fargo to $500 for the game here.

The time and place of the game will be decided on agreement between the officials, probably late today or tomorrow.

Local officials want to play the game here Friday afternoon, instead of Saturday, because of the Legion play Saturday afternoon.

The Bismarck "Demons" won the right to meet Fargo by trouncing the Williston team 13 to 0 at Minot Saturday. Fargo beat Cavalier 66 to 0.

Roads Halt Return

The Bismarck team and two score fans who accompanied the team were marooned in Minot Sunday. Only one or two automobiles ploughed through the mud to Bismarck, it is said, and it took the team and fans about 12 hours to make the trip. The Western Union wires were kept busy Sunday with Bismarck people wiring here that they could not get home until today.

The Bismarck team was expected in on the Soo tonight. The high school did not plan any big celebration until after the season closes.

The Bismarck team lived up to form at Minot, by presenting a strong defense, a good, hard offense and taking advantage of the misplays of their opponents. Although it was misty during the morning, the field on which the game was played was good, and Williston had no excuses to offer. The Williston bunch, having been in championship or inter-sectional games before, trotted on the field confident. The first half was about even, Bismarck scoring just before the end.

Smothered Williston

But in the second half the Bismarck defense smothered practically every play Williston started, and the northwest team was on the defensive most of the time. Capt. Scott and Kline, tackles, took the brunt of the Williston offense, and did great work. The Williston team relied chiefly on off-tackle plays and forward passes. They couldn't score by the pass game. There were no outstanding stars in the Bismarck lineup. Alfson was the best ground gainer, Hahn and Burke made nice plays to score the touchdowns, and the entire team played a hard game.

Detailed account of the game is given in another column.

QUEEN CITY TEAM BEATEN

(Special to the Tribune) Marmarth, N. D., Nov. 6.—Marmarth high school's football team easily defeated Dickinson here today, 20 to 6, this giving the border line city a clean slate for the season. Although handicapped by four regulars watching the game from the sidelines due to injuries the fighting Marmarth team went on the field determined to win and did. Coach Philpot refused to allow his team to open up, saving his best plays for the annual Marmarth-Baker classic.

KRAUSE SIGNS FOR NEW BOUT

But Krause, local boxer, has signed to box at Portland, N. D., on Nov. 22. He will meet Kid Farnes of Fargo, who knocked out Abe Wallace in the fourth round at Fargo. This is the third fight Krause has signed up for this month. On the 11th he meets Perry Bliven at Grand Forks for 10 rounds; and on the 17th he boxes with Joe Maugs at Wilton on the legion program.

SPORT BRIEFS

Minneapolis.—"Wid" Mathews out-fighter for the Milwaukee Association club was sold to the Philadelphia Americans for Dave Keefe, pitcher, and Frank Calloway, infielder, and a cash consideration.

Montreal.—St. John N. B. was chosen for the international skating meet of 1923 and Chicago for the national competition at the annual meeting of the International skating union of America.

DRIVING ATTACK AND STRONG DEFENCE BRING VICTORY FOR BISMARCK IN WILLISTON GAME

Blocked Kick, Smashes and Forward Pass Give One Touchdown and Intercepted Pass by Hahn Second Touchdown—Bismarck Complete Master of Williston Team in a Hard-Fought Game Throughout—Repetition of Minot Game Here.

By C. H. Geist (Sporting Editor Minot Daily News.)

Minot, N. D., Nov. 4.—Playing the usual strong game that has characterized its work this season and running true to advance dope, the Bismarck high school football team defeated Williston here Saturday afternoon 13 to 0 in the western semi-finals of the state championship race. By virtue of Saturday's victory, Bismarck is entitled to play Fargo high school for state honors, the Gate City crew eliminated Cavalier Saturday by a score of 65 to 0.

Bismarck's victory over Williston was a well earned one, being practically a repetition of the Minot-Bismarck game two weeks ago although lacking perhaps some of the thrills of that contest. A mist falling throughout the forenoon and during the game made the field somewhat heavy and the handling of the ball uncertain. It developed for the most part into a gruelling line plunging game with occasional forward passes. Very few end runs were attempted by either side. The play saw-sawed back and forth in the center of the field during the greater part of the game. Although defeated, Williston put up a whale of a battle, but was not quite equal to the battering attack of the heavy Capital City crew.

Bismarck's first touchdown was made in the last 20 seconds of the second quarter. Burke missed a drop kick from Williston's 25 yard line and Williston put the ball in play on their 20 yard line. Kline, Bismarck tackle, blocked Williston's punt and recovered the ball on Williston's 15 yard line. Three plays through the line put the ball on Williston's one yard line and on the fourth down a short forward pass, Halloran to Burke, resulted in a touchdown. The point after touchdown failed when a Williston man blocked Burke's attempted drop kick.

Hahn intercepts pass. The second touchdown came about the middle of the third quarter when Hahn intercepted a Williston pass and raced 35 yards for the score. Burke added the extra point by a drop kick from the 15 yard line. To name any outstanding stars would perhaps be injustice to the remaining members of the teams, as both functioned well as units. Hahn and Alfson, however, proved to be the most consistent ground gainers for Bismarck and the work of Burke at end, was particularly good. Halloran and Brown also made occasional good gains.

Good Crowd Out. For Williston, Farries and Kulas proved the best ground gainers. Vohs was a tower of strength in the line and was responsible for spoiling many Bismarck plays. Phillips, Williston's star quarterback, entered the game suffering from injuries sustained last week in the game against Minot and was forced to retire at the end of the second half. At the beginning of the final quarter, he gamely entered the game again in a desperate effort to turn the tide of conflict.

In spite of the inclement weather, a good sized crowd consisting of Williston, Bismarck and Minot fans was in attendance. The Minot high school band entertained the crowd with several selections before the game and between halves. The teams lined up as follows:

WILLISTON	BISMARCK
Shaver.....L.E.	Scroggins
Vohs.....L.T.	Scott (capt)
Addyman.....L.G.	Reed
Cooper.....C.	Benzer
Jeffries.....E.C.	Rhud
Hogan.....R.T.	Kline
Scott.....E.E.	Burke
Phillips(capt.).....Q.B.	Halloran
Kulas.....R.H.	Hahn
Farries.....F.B.	Alfson

The officials were: L. W. Upshaw, Jamestown, referee; J. S. Grogan, Flaxton, umpire; C. E. Bublitz, Minot Normal, head line-man.

The game: First Quarter Williston won toss and chose to receive, defending north goal. Hahn kicked off to Shaver who made a five yard return. Three tries through the line netted only five yards and Phillips punted to Halloran. Three line bucks gained seven yards and on the fourth down Brown crashed through for first down. Alfson made five through the line and Hahn followed with four more. The next line play failed to gain. Williston took the ball on downs. A forward pass, Phillips to Scott, netted four yards but two line plays failed to gain and Phillips punted to Halloran who was downed in his tracks. Time out. Halloran hurt. An end run and two line bucks failed to gain and Hahn punted to Phillips. King made four yards through center and a pass, Phillips to Shaver, netted seven yards. Two line thrusts netted only three yards but on the next play Farries crashed through the line making first down. Farries again smashed off tackle for eight yards, putting the ball on Bismarck's 24 yard line. Bismarck took time out and added four more on the next plunge. Bismarck's line stiffened and held for downs. Hahn punted to Phillips. Williston failed to gain and Phillips punted to Halloran. On the third down, Phillips intercepted a Bismarck pass and made five yards. Three attempts to pierce the line failed and Phillips punted to Halloran. Williston penalized 15 yards. On the first

Assistant Attorney-General Issues Ruling on the State Election Law

Electioneering on election day is prohibited by state law, Charles Simon, assistant attorney-general, said in a statement issued today. The statement follows: During the last few days several complaints have been made to the Attorney-General's Department that an effort will be made to carry on electioneering on election day, to the voters the printed matter in regard to this matter, and as to the duties of election officials, I will state that election officials have no right to read anything aloud, say anything, or do anything that will in any way influence the voters at the polls to vote one way or the other. If a voter asks for help or assistance, and presents a card or ticket having upon it the names, or initials, also, indicating the candidates for whom he wishes to vote, it is the duty of the judges of the election to help such voters to mark his ballot, and while doing so, both judges, must be in the presence of the voter when such instructions and assistance are being given to him.

STORY TOLD OF HOW BANDITS WERE TRACKED

Frisco Railroad Agent Given Credit For "Getting" Kennedy

(By the Associated Press) Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 6.—The robbery of a St. Louis and San Francisco mail train at Seventy Six, Mo., Friday, in which Jack Kennedy, the "quail hunter" and Harvey Logan, two of the bandits, met death at the hands of a posse of railroad special agents and postal inspectors, was the nineteenth train robbery in which Kennedy claimed to have participated, according to Ed. Munroe, Frisco railroad special agent, leader of the posse.

From the time that Kennedy and Logan left Memphis, ten days ago in the automobile in which they planned to escape after the robbery, Munroe said he had been almost within speaking distance of the pair every moment of the time. Following them from Memphis to Cape Girardeau, Mo. Munroe secured an adjoining room to them at a hotel.

"On the morning before the robbery I watched them cleaning their guns," Munroe said. "When they left for Seventy Six we knew the time had come to act. We gave them plenty of time, and then followed them. We threw up a little breastwork of rock at a point we knew they would have to pass in getting back to their car, and then waited.

"When they slowed the engine down at the bridge at Wittenburg, Kennedy, an old engineer was at the throttle. As they jumped, Kennedy threw the throttle wide open. "As they approached the spot where we were waiting I yelled to them to throw up their hands. Logan fired in reply. Then the ten men turned loose their shotguns. Both bandits were killed almost instantly.

O'CONNOR-NESTOS TICKET ON PARTY COLUMN BALLOT

If the O'Connor-Nestos ticket is elected on November 7th, North Dakota will be creditably represented in the halls of Congress, and have the confidence of the people of all other states. Hall warrants will be cashing at par, farm loans will be renewed and extension of credit in other lines assured. On the other hand, if we elect a man to represent us in the United States Senate who was recalled as governor of the state because he permitted the most flagrant graft and misuse of public funds, we must expect the people of other state to refuse to do business with us.

If the O'Connor-Nestos ticket is elected on November 7th, North Dakota will be one of the best governed states in the union. Public records will be open to the public and public funds will be used for the benefit of the public. Good people will come here to live and people who have money to invest or lend, will come to put it in North Dakota. On the other hand, if the Frazier-Lenke ticket is elected, our public records will be kept in the people and our public funds will be squandered in ventures like the Home Builders' blunder.

If the O'Connor-Nestos ticket is elected on November 7th, North Dakota will have good schools and good courts and because of it, be respected by the entire world. On the other hand, if the Frazier-Lenke ticket is elected, our public schools and libraries will be polluted with socialist literature and our school funds will be dissipated for political purposes.

Vote for every one of these. A governmental policy can not be fairly tried out with one half of the public officials for it and the other half against it.

BAPTIST REVIVAL MEETINGS CLOSE

Evangelistic meetings which have been in progress at the Baptist church conducted by Rev. J. E. Naylor, evangelist for the Home Missions society, closed last night with the baptism of three candidates. The meetings have been fairly well attended and genuine interest was shown in the religious condition of the city and church. In addition to the evangelist and pastor, Rev. O. S. Jacobson, pastor-at-large, Rev. P. E. Naylor, field agent for the American Sunday School Union and Rev. George Newcomb of the Society for the Friendless helped in various ways. Rev. Jacobson was chairman of the personal work committee and conducted the after meetings which were well attended and enjoyed by all.

During the meetings a number of people including many Sunday school pupils, indicated their interest in the religious life, fifteen definitely uniting with the church by letter or by baptism.

Rev. Naylor left this morning for Minot where he will test a day and then go to Glenburn, where he will begin a meeting with Rev. John Melander, pastor of the Baptist church there. Rev. Naylor spoke from an unusual experience as a sailor and traveler. His messages were clear and direct holding close to the lines of conservative evangelism, and full of urgent appeal for his hearers to make definite and public decision for Christ and the church.

We wish to express our appreciation to all who have helped in the meetings. We heartily appreciate the consideration which the Tribune has shown by allowing space for the daily reports of the meetings and announcements.

DETECTIVE BEGAN TO BELIEVE HE WAS DOOMED

"I thought my case was hopeless until I found Tanlae," declared J. H. Wulsh, 606 Portland Ave., St. Paul, Minn., well known member of the St. Paul detective force.

"For ten long years I was in bad shape from rheumatism and stomach trouble. Whenever I ventured to eat a meal everything would sour on my stomach. I filled with gas and the pressure around my heart nearly cut off my breath. I had spitting headaches and dizzy spells, was so nervous I could get no restful sleep, and I began to feel I was doomed to spend the rest of my days in suffering."

Tanlae went right after my troubles and now I simply feel great. My appetite is ravenous, everything agrees with me, my nerves are steady and I get plenty of restful sleep. I am always saying a good word for Tanlae."

Tanlae is sold by all druggists.

Young Farmer Dies Of Gunshot Wound

Helmut A. Werner, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Warner of Hazen, passed away at a local hospital Saturday night at 11 o'clock as a result of gunshot wounds sustained 10 days ago when the gun he was carrying while running a tractor accidentally exploded. Mr. Werner was hunting rabbits while he was disking in the field, and had laid his gun down on the tractor as he drove along when it exploded, wounding him in the leg. It was not until several hours after the accident occurred that Mr. Warner was found. The large amount of blood lost during this time, left him in such a weakened state that he was unable to recover. The remains will be sent to Hazen where interment will take place.

About Patterson's Taxes

To the Voters of Burleigh County:

A report is being circulated and published by my opponent, that I do not pay my taxes. I have paid taxes in Burleigh County since 1883, and during that time have probably paid into the City Treasury and County Treasury over $150,000, and I defy any one to say that I have ever secured any reduction in my taxes, or evaded payment, except when the Soo Railroad was built, and the reduction I then received I gave to the Committee to secure the right of way of said Railroad, which many other citizens did. It is true that some of my taxes have not been paid and the same are now in the hands of the courts, my attorneys being Ex-Tax Commissioner George E. Wallace and William Langer. I stand ready to pay whatever the Courts may decree is due, I having placed in a special fund the entire amount of my taxes due ready to pay the County Treasurer when the Court may decide what is legally due. When the valuations were raised three years ago my property was raised in value from 300 to 500 per cent more in proportion than what other and similar properties were raised, and that is one of the causes of my suit. I appealed to the present State Tax Commissioners and they made a reduction, but in the judgment of my attorneys their reduction was not enough and I have appealed my case to the Courts.

I have done the same as hundreds of other people have done for years, and as the man who is trying to cause my defeat is now doing in the Courts. In my case the City and County can lose nothing and will receive every cent, with interest, of what is rightfully and legally due, and I will leave to the public if the property is not good for it.

If I must surrender my property rights and my privileges as a citizen in order to hold an official position, then I do not care to be County Commissioner, as my rightful and lawful rights and privileges are more dear to me than the office of County Commissioner.

I stand ready to serve the people but not if it necessarily surrenders those rights.

F. E. MURDY
Candidate for States Attorney
Burleigh County.

My policy is to prosecute every criminal against whom sufficient evidence can be had. It is the state's attorney's duty. The law requires him to do it. He must do it if he is honest.

My administration is economical. I have lost fewer cases and secured more convictions than any states attorney in this County for years.

When Mr. Allen was states attorney of this county he prosecuted an editor for publishing something Mr. Allen did not like. Mr. Allen lost the case. The TAXPAYERS paid the bill.

I have never used the office for personal or political purposes, and never will.

Mr. Allen was hired by the County Commissioners to collect seed loans owing to the county. Before election he recommended that a large part of the liens be uncollected and published that recommendation. By so doing he would have the taxpayers pay the bills.

If elected I will pursue the same policy as heretofore and endeavor to do the work carefully, efficiently and economically without regard to the political or other affiliations of the persons interested.

Your vote is respectfully solicited.

An Open Letter to the Voters

Bismarck, N. D.
October 28, 1922.

Dear Voter:

I am a candidate for re-election as County Commissioner of the First Commissioner District for Burleigh County and I desired to see you personally but owing to my large farming and other business interests and want of help, it will be impossible to see many of my constituents.

My district comprises all of the city of Bismarck south of the township line and within two miles of Menoken. The rule is that each Commissioner takes care of the roads in his individual district and I have never interfered with the work in another Commissioner's district. The records will show that I have expended less money for roads and bridges in my district since acting as Commissioner than has been expended in any other district.

The roads in my district are good. The worst roads in Burleigh County will compare favorably with the streets of Bismarck after leaving the paved streets and are far better than the streets to and around the Capitol Building and the Ferry road after leaving the N. P. crossing, which points are in the city limits. The road from the pavement on Main Street to the Penitentiary, which is in the city limits, was an eyesore and a disgrace for years until taken in charge by myself and put in the condition it is at present.

It is true that some roads in the county have not been kept in first class condition owing to the continual dry weather and because labor could not be secured. The County Commissioners have desired to give as much employment on the roads as possible to the individual farmers, and the Board has been limited in the amount that could be expended, the appropriation for 3,300 miles of road being Forty-five Thousand Dollars per year to keep in repair these roads and provide for the making of new roads.

There have been comments regarding the roads around the Patterson farm. I furnished the gravel for those roads without charge to the County and furnished more than half of the labor at my own expense, and the farms of Yegen, Wachter, Thompson, Griffin and others received the same benefit of my donation, and I will guarantee that, while I am on the Board, if anyone will furnish the gravel and half of the labor, as I did, I will build them as good roads as there are around the Patterson farm.

I am a large taxpayer in Bismarck and Burleigh County and it is certainly to my interest to keep the taxes low, both on city and county property. Your support will be deeply appreciated.

Respectfully yours,

Edward G. Patterson

GO TO THE POLLS
It is the solemn duty of every citizen to go to the polls tomorrow and register his vote in the election.
The campaign is now over. The arguments are virtually all in and little work remains to be done. From the opening speech at Wilton by Governor Nestos down to the closing talks of Townley and George F. Shafer and Rev. Birchenough, The Tribune has given the arguments of the campaign fully and fairly. The issues have been laid before the voters and every voter ought to be well informed on the issues and upon the candidates. The growing apathy on the part of voters, particularly in the large cities, is becoming more and more of a concern to the leaders in political life. Bitter complaints are registered in Minnesota today because of the fear that not all good citizens will cast their ballot tomorrow. It is a serious matter if a large body of citizens lose their interest in their government. The vote in the primary election in North Dakota was light, and it is to be hoped that tomorrow there will be a full and free expression of the voters for every candidate and measure on the ballot.
CAST YOUR BALLOT TOMORROW.

BRAIN SCARS
A physician who specializes in mental disorders tells us that a good many former booze-fighters are coming to him with this rather mysterious complaint:
"I haven't done much drinking since prohibition went into effect. The alcohol must be entirely out of my system. Yet I notice lately that, every once in a while, I wake up in the morning feeling as if I'd been on a big bat the night before and had a hang-over. I wouldn't mind it so much, if I'd really had the liquor. But paying the penalty for an imaginary quart of Old Crow is one straw too many on a dry and suffering camel's back."
This former old soak, according to the brain specialist, is a victim of the Law of Recurrences. To illustrate:

Were you ever poisoned by poison ivy? Probably you got it cured, seemingly out of your system... only to find that it comes back, year after year, at about the same month you originally contracted it.
Or a person subject to hay fever notices that the recurring attacks break out each year, almost to the same day.
A friend of ours used to have rheumatism in his right leg. The leg was cut off by a street car. As customary, he constantly "has the feeling" that his lost leg still is attached to his body, and he says he imagines he can move the missing member. This is because the part of his brain that used to move the leg still exists and is functioning.
Worst of all, at certain seasons, this unfortunate chap complains that he is suffering from rheumatism in the lost leg.
All this is part of the Law of Recurrences—a periodical functioning of the brain and body, following the course of an established rut.

As with poison ivy and the seven-year-itch and rheumatism in a cut-off leg, the nervous system—and especially the brain—"runs in cycles." That is, when it becomes accustomed to reacting a certain way at definite intervals it continues its reactions by habit, even though the exciting cause is discontinued.
The old-time chronic "bar fly" got his brain and general nervous system in the habit of having a periodical hang-over. And now, by habit, the delicate machinery of the nervous system stages a hang-over automatically, without any bottled-in-bond cause.
Time will gradually remedy this sad affliction of having a hang-over without a prior compensation jag.
What kind of habits are you developing in your bodily organs, your nerves and mind? Easy to understand why repeated attempts to be cheerful, optimistic, happy and healthy soon become a matter of habit—automatic.

FUTURE
A glimpse of what may be common 50 years from now comes from Honolulu, where Governor Farrington takes a trip as passenger in an airplane. Above Pearl Harbor, the plane catches fire.
The pilot and his mechanic make Farrington crawl out on a wing while they battle the flames. Not a comfortable place to be, the plane traveling all this time like an express train, gradually descending. Striking the water, all swim and are picked up.
This is a modern version of the old-time thriller story of the boy who stood on the burning deck.

CAUSE
Market price of grains has advanced 40 cents a bushel in Europe, but only 10 cents to American farms. Julius Barnes says this in a speech at Chicago. He blames it on "the breakdown of our transportation system."
Rather difficult, to follow this reasoning, since farm prices smashed below normal when the railroads had more idle cars than they knew what to do with.
The real trouble is that some one else is getting what rightfully should go to the farmer. It's the modern gold-brick swindle.

FIRE
Henry L. Doherty, president of Cities Service Company, announces that he will heat 100 Denver homes with manufactured gas this winter "at a cost that will compete with coal."

That may be the solution of the coal problem—shipping it to central distribution points, converting it into coke, then sending the byproduct gas to consumers through a network of pipe lines covering the country like a spider's web.
The final solution will be burning the coal at the mines, generating current to go over high tension wires to a country on an electrical basis.

THE PASSING OF THE COWBOY

He was an heroic, romantic figure in his day—but his day has gone. The old-time cowboy of forty years ago is almost an exclusive motion-picture figure now.
When twenty-five old cowboys in their seventies gathered together in Canyon, Tex., for a reunion last week it was to reminisce of an era that has passed away. The picturesque cowboy has been abolished by wire fences and up-to-date taste. No longer do the cattle wander the wide unfenced ranges. No longer are they the lean, tough animals that a harder generation tolerated. Cattle raising is a very different affair in these days and good beef is achieved by a tenderer consideration that that allotted them by the old, hard-riding, hard-sweating, hard-living cowboys of the seventies and the eighties.

The Texas cattle ranch of today is a highly organized center of modern efficiency. The cattle are not exactly housed in a Hotel Ambassador, but their lives are immeasurably more "civilized." Science and commerce have modernized modern efficiency have all conspired to make both the cattle and the cowboys of today "tender." And so the cowboy has arrived at the place where he forms an organization of veterans and meets annually to reminisce on a vanished past. It is a sentimental thing, to see his modern counterpart in the movies. He is passing into history like so many other glamorous characters. Flimsy speaking, he will soon reach the historic interest of a "costume play." At a masquerade ball he is "fancy dress." And those who survive hire a wagon, cowhide, coal meaty beans and sour-dough biscuits, hold a barbecue—and tell tales—and become a "news item."—Los Angeles Times.

"Old grads" of Slawish, Wampus and Whoozit colleges feel a thrill as days of yore when the whistle blows today for the start of the annual football season. Undergraduates, with clenched fists in almost prayerlike frenzy, will be exploring their beloved eleven to "hold that line" or "break up that forward pass." Of all events which start the blood circulating through the veins with an intoxicating exuberance none can compare with the college game of football. A well trained team playing with the accuracy of a machine carrying the ball down the field arouses college enthusiasm of the highest order.
At no other sport is the enthusiasm so well organized as in the cheering of the students. For, no other events will thousands brave inclement weather to shiver for more than an hour for mere enjoyment. Truly football has its devotees those whose love for the sport in addition to their college spirit gives them many a thrill at success and many a heartache at failure, for success means failure for the opponents. It is great, however, for the losers to have the feeling. "They failed, fighting," Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.

RECALLING THE PAST

The recent report of the children's bureau of the department of labor on conditions in an anthracite coal district in Pennsylvania reads strikingly like a report of social and industrial conditions in England a century and a quarter ago. The story of poor sanitation, of bad housing, of the employment of children, of a high rate of infant mortality and of frequent industrial accidents is here retold just as it was recorded before the beginning of social legislation more than a century ago.
From other sources facts have been drawn that the conditions found in this particular branch of the anthracite field are all too common in many portions of the bituminous field. And behind these circumstances to account for them is the fact that coal mining in the United States is greatly over-manned; that recurring depression so far reduces miners' earnings that better provisions for their needs both present and future can scarcely be made. The miners' children are forced to go into the mines and factories to supplement family incomes and with their early employment under unfavorable conditions go the inevitable results—broken bodies and broken spirits.
When the operators and the miners and the representatives of the government seek a reduction of the coal problem they should keep ever in mind the welfare of the miners' children. Any kind of arrangement or adjustment that fails to offer them a fair measure of the good things of life that have thus far been denied so many of them will be morally and economically indefensible. —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A THOUGHT

Nevertheless, where to we have already attained, let us walk by the same rule; let us mind the same thing.—Philippians 3:16.

May make a life the sweeter;
If any little care of mine
May make a friend's life the better;
If any lift of mine may ease

God give me love, and care, and strength,
To help a toiling brother.

EPISODE ELEVEN

The Place of Pines

The last sound that Mike Clinch heard on earth was the detonation of his own rifle. Probably it was an agreeable sound to him. He lay there with a pleasant expression on his massive features. His watch had fallen out of his pocket.
Quintana shined him with an electric torch; picked up the watch. Then, holding the torch in one hand, he went through the dead man's pockets very thoroughly.

When Quintana had finished, both trays of the flat morocco case were full of jewels. And Quintana was full of wonder and suspicion.
Unquietly he looked upon the dead—upon the glittering contents of the jewel-box—but always his gaze reverted to the dead. The faintest shadow of a smile edged Clinch's lips. Quintana's lips drew a grimace. He said slowly, like one who does his thinking aloud:
"What is it you have done to me, Pami Clinch?"

Are there truly two sets of precious stones? Two flaming jewels?—two gems of Eros like there never has been in all these words except only two. Have I here one set of precious facsimiles? My friend Clinch, why do you lie there and smile at me so very funny. Like you are amused? I am wondering what you have done to me, my friend Clinch.

For a while he remained kneeling beside the dead. Then "Ah, ha!" he said, pocketing the morocco case and getting to his feet.
He moved a little way toward the open trail, stopped, came back, stood his rifle against a tree.

For a while he was busy with his sharp Spanish class knife, whittling and fitting together two peeled twigs. A cross was the ultimate result. Then he placed Clinch's hands palm to palm upon his chest, laid the cross on his breast, and shined the result with complacency.
Then Quintana took off his hat. "Pami Mike," he said, "you were a man!"

Adios!
The night had turned frosty. Quintana, wet to the knees and very tired, moved slowly, not daring to leave the trail because of sink-holes. What he had to have was a fire; he realized that. Somewhere off the trail, in big timber if possible, he must build a fire and master this deadly chill that was slowly paralyzing all power of movement.

At last he came to a place of pines, first growth giants towering into night, and, looking up, saw stars infinitely distant. —where perhaps those things called souls drifted like wisps of vapor.
When the fire took, Quintana's thin dark hands had become nearly useless from cold. He could not have crooked finger to trigger.

For a long time he sat close to torpid limbs, but did not dare strip off his foot-gear.
Later he ate and drank languidly, looking up at the stars, speculating as to the possible presence of Mike Clinch up there.

What a chase Clinch had led him after the Flaming Jewel. And now Clinch lay dead in the forest—faintly smiling. At what?

In a very low, passionless voice, Quintana cursed monotonously as he gazed into the fire. In Spanish, French, Portuguese, Italian, he remembered Clinch's daughter, and he cursed her, chabonately, thoroughly, wishing her black mischance awake and asleep, living or dead.

Presently Quintana slept after his own fashion—that is to say, looking closely at him one could discover a glimmer under his lowered eyelids. And he listened always in that kind of sleep. As though a shadowy part of him were detached from his body, and mounted guard over it.

The inaudible movement of a wood-mouse venturing into the fire-lit circle awoke Quintana. Aroa a dropping leaf and distant birches awoke him. Such things. And so he slept with wet feet to the fire and his rifle across his knees, and dreamed of Eve and of murder, and that the Flaming Jewel was but a mass of glass.

At that moment the girl of whose white throat Quintana was dreaming, and whispering faintly in his dreams, stood alone outside Clinch's the trucks lifting her head incessantly to listen and peer into the darkness. Her quick eye caught something ahead—something very slightly different from the wall of black obscurity—a vague hint of color—the very vaguest tint scarcely perceptible at all.

But she knew it was firelight touching the trunk of an unseen tree.

Now, soundless over damp pine needles she crept. The scent of smoke grew strong in nostrils and throat; the pale tint became pearly reddish. All about her the blackness seemed palpable—seemed to touch her body with its weight; but, ahead, a ruddy glow stained two huge pines. And presently she saw the fire, burning low, but redly alive. And, after a long, long while, she saw a man.

He had left the fire circle. His pack and belted muckinaw still lay there at the foot of a great tree. But when, finally, she discovered him, he was scarcely visible where he crouched in the shadow of a tree-trunk, with his rifle half lowered at a ready.

She strained her eyes; but distance and obscurity made recognition impossible. And yet, somehow, every quivering instinct within her was telling her that the crouched and shadowy watcher beyond the fire was Quintana.

And every concentrated instinct was telling her that he'd kill her if he caught sight of her; her heart clattered; her pulses thumped in her ears.

Had the girl been capable of it she could have killed him where he crouched. She thought of it, but knew it was not in her to do it. And yet Quintana had boasted that he meant to kill her father. That was what terribly concerned her. And there must be a way to stop that danger—some way to stop that short of murder—a way to render this man harmless to her and hers.

No, she could not kill him this way. Except in extremes she could not bring herself to fire upon any human creature. And yet this man must be rendered harmless—somehow—somehow—ah!

As the problem presented itself its solution flashed into her mind. Men of the wilderness knew how to take dangerous creatures alive. To take a dangerous and reasoning human was even less difficult, because reason makes more mistakes than does instinct.

Still, without a sound, the girl crept back through the shadows over the damp pine needles, until, peering fearfully over her shoulder, she saw the last ghost-tint of Quintana's fire die out in the terrible dark behind.

Slowly, still, she moved until her sensitive feet felt the trodden path from Drowned Valley.

Now, with torch flaring, she ran, carrying her rifle at a trail. Before her, here and there, little night creatures fled—a humped-up raccoon, dazzled by the glare, a barred owl still struggling with its wood-rat kill.
She ran easily—an agile, tireless young thing, part of the swiftness and silence of the woods—part of the darkness, the sinuous celerity, the ominous hush of wide, still places—part of its very blood and pulse and hot, sweet breath.
Even when she came out among the birches by Clinch's Dump she was breathing evenly and without distress. She ran to the kitchen door but did not enter. On pegs under the porch a score or more of rusty traps hung. She unhooked the largest, wound the chain around it, tucked it under her left arm and started back.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

Nancy and Nick were still hunting for Mother Goose's broom. Along the road they went, searching and inquiring of every one they met.

By and by Nancy exclaimed, "I declared, Nick, this road is getting as crooked as a—well, as a crooked old man's back." "Neither did I," agreed Nick, looking up and down in a puzzled sort of way. "I feel like the soldier who met himself coming back. We'll never get anywhere this way."

But the little Green Shoes trudged bravely on and before many minutes the twins found themselves in front of a very crooked house. Indeed the house was so crooked that the front steps went up to the back door and the cellar windows were on the roof.

"Well of all things!" declared both children together. "This is the craziest thing yet."

But they were wrong. There were wonderers to be seen. The barn stood as a crooked fence was quite as crooked as the house, and the cows and horses and pigs and chickens looked worse than a Humpty Dumpty Circus after the baby has been playing with it.

As they were gazing open-mouthed at all these wonders, the door of the house opened and a crooked man appeared. "Come in, friends," he invited. "You looked tired and perhaps you would like to talk to rest. Besides I like to talk to travelers as they usually bring news. I am, as you may have guessed, the Crooked-Min-Who-We-are-a-Crooked-Mile-and-a-Crooked-Six-Pence Against-a-Crooked-Style."

"But here's a secret, the six-pence is no good. No one will take it. So I keep it for a pocket-piece. And now you know about me, come in and tell me about yourselves." So in went Nancy and Nick.

MANDAN NEWS

Many people in Mandan and the Slope district have received invitations to participate in the "Great Danish Colonial Money Lottery." The lottery is alleged to be operated by the Danish government under authority of the king. The mail matter was sent out in plain envelopes with no "return card" which is said to be the reason it passed through the American mails.

Mmes. H. W. Middaugh, M. Morris, R. W. Shinnors, and W. E. Fitzsimmons left Friday for Jamestown to attend the district meeting of the fifth, sixth, and eighth districts of the North Dakota Federation of Music Clubs which was held there Saturday.

Mrs. Fitzsimmons will attend the meeting as a representative of the Bismarck Musical club and the others will represent the local club. All the ladies appeared on the musical program which was a feature of the afternoon session.

Mrs. W. H. Stutsman, state recording secretary, also left for Jamestown to attend the meeting and will later accompany Mrs. J. A. Jardine, state president of the other two district meetings to be held in Fargo, and Grand Forks respectively.

Members of the Lutheran League of the Lutheran church enjoyed a hallowe'en hard times party in the basement of the church Friday evening.

BEAUTY STANDS OUT IN WILDE PHOTOPLAY
Settings in Which Story of "A Woman of No Importance" is Told Carefully Chosen

"A Woman of No Importance," announced as the attraction at the Capitol theatre for two days beginning tonight, will prove a delight to that large class of theatregoers who like their photodrama presented in settings which are artistically beautiful.

The story, written by Oscar Wilde, has to do with a sequence of dramatic events which begin in a typical English garden with its beautiful flowers and shrubbery and ends in a magnificently appointed English residence. It is noticeably true that at no time during the narration of the story does anything appear on the screen which is in any way offensive to the eye—the pleasing scenes are all ideally beautiful, giving every indication that they have been chosen with the greatest care.

"A Woman of No Importance" has its greatest appeal because of the unusual strength of its story. Produced as a play many years ago in London and later in New York City with Rose Coghlan heading a remarkable cast, the bill has long been a favorite among theatregoers in every corner of the English-speaking world. It differs dramatically from the average screen story in that sets out definitely to follow to the bitter end a recital which is not always pleasant and makes none of the deviations which might have been made had the director decided to give his audiences what he might have had abundant reasons to believe they would have liked better.

"Rich Men's Wives," showing at the Eltinge theatre Monday and Tuesday, is a pictorial revelation of the life of a beautiful young girl who matches her physical charms against the wealth of her husband. It is an uneven contest for a while until the fighting spirit of the wife is aroused when she finds herself forced from the side of her baby boy. Then the plot takes on the aspect of sheer melodrama with the scenes laid among the best surroundings that architectural and decorative ingenuity and skill can devise.

Besides House Peters, Claire Windsor and Baby Richard Hendrick, the cast includes such players as Rosemary Theby, Gaston Glass, Mildred Jane, William Austin, Martha Mattox and Carol Holloway.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Forget-Me-Not Sale Brings Good Return

A total of $363.39 was obtained in Bismarck Saturday as a result of the Forget-Me-Not sale which was being conducted for the benefit of the War Veterans fund. This, it was reported, was considered a good return.

Mrs. Maud Lightner, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Lightner, proved herself a star saleswoman Saturday morning when she sold 100 forget-me-nots for the benefit of the War Veterans fund.

Mrs. Mary B. McGarvey, with a total sale of 232 forget-me-nots, ranked first in selling the greatest number of any of the committee appointed to sell flowers. Several girls sold as many as 170 flowers.

Richard Tracy declared that all the girls and young women working had made a wonderful record.

Those who actively engaged in selling during the day include the following:

Ethel Pellard, Hazel Lenhart, Winifred Hugelmann, Lucille Kline, Dorothy Johnson, Elizabeth Butler, Katherine McDonald, Maude Lightner, Jeannette Burch, Mabel Aaberg, Edna Elson, Mary B. McGarvey, Helen Gies, Frances Wynn, Betty Lockwood, Esther Terney, Betty Dunham, Florence Wynn, Margaret McGarvey, Kathleen Harris, Marjory McCormick, Myrtle Miller, and Annie Katz.

In the evening Mrs. Tracy was assisted by Misses Irma Logan, Mary Parsons, Edna Rust, and Leola Hendershot.

Community Council Make New Plans

At the meeting of the Women's Community Council Saturday afternoon Mrs. F. L. Smyth was named chairman of a committee which will have charge of preparing a luncheon for business men and women sometime during the month of November, for the benefit of the council. The Elks have volunteered to allow the women the use of their hall free.

Mrs. Keller, chairman of the finance committee, reported that $206.81 was made in the recent benefit movie, "Sonny," given at the Eltinge, $11.75 was given the council a part of the proceeds from the wrestling and boxing bouts conducted by North Dakota Athletic Association of which Bart Krause is head, a donation of $10 was given by the members of the Sunshine club, and $2.50 a part of the proceeds from a foot sale.

It was suggested at the meeting that funds be raised individually by each organization composing the Community. This may be done either by giving some kind of benefit social or entertainment or as a donation.

Outlines Fight Against Illiteracy

Mrs. Alfred Zuger, director of illiteracy work for the women's clubs of North Dakota, and Mrs. Blanche Whitmore, grand matron of the Eastern Star lodge of North Dakota, spoke before the members of the Eastern Star at Linton Friday.

Mrs. Zuger was invited to discuss the work of campaign against illiteracy in the state of North Dakota. In making plans with Mr. Hanson, superintendent of the Emmons county schools, she outlined a plan by means of which illiterates might be eliminated in that county, in which it is stated there are 348 illiterates.

Mrs. Zuger who has a very fine exhibit of the work done by illiterates at the state penitentiary, and

Cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes

Now our experts have perfected a quick-cooking Quaker Oats—the quickest-cooking oats in the world. It cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. 'It is the quickest-cooking oats in the world.

The same super-quality, the same exquisite flavor. All Quaker Oats are flaked from queen grains only.

But for Instant Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small thin flakes cook quickly.

Grocers now have both styles. But Instant Quaker is marked Instant on the label. Get that if you want quick cooking. No other oats on the market cook nearly so quickly as these.

other classes in which she has instructed.

She advised that the best method was to assign a district to each of the district school teachers, for the purpose of finding out how many illiterates existed in their particular district. She urged that a joint meeting of teachers and all citizens interested in wiping out illiteracy be called.

All Milk Should Be Pasteurized

PASTEURIZING removes impurities which may have gathered on the way from the dairy to the bottling plant. Our milk is pasteurized by the Wizard Pasteurizing System which removes all bacteria without affecting the flavor or food value. The Wizard has the reputation of being the most efficient pasteurizing system on the market.

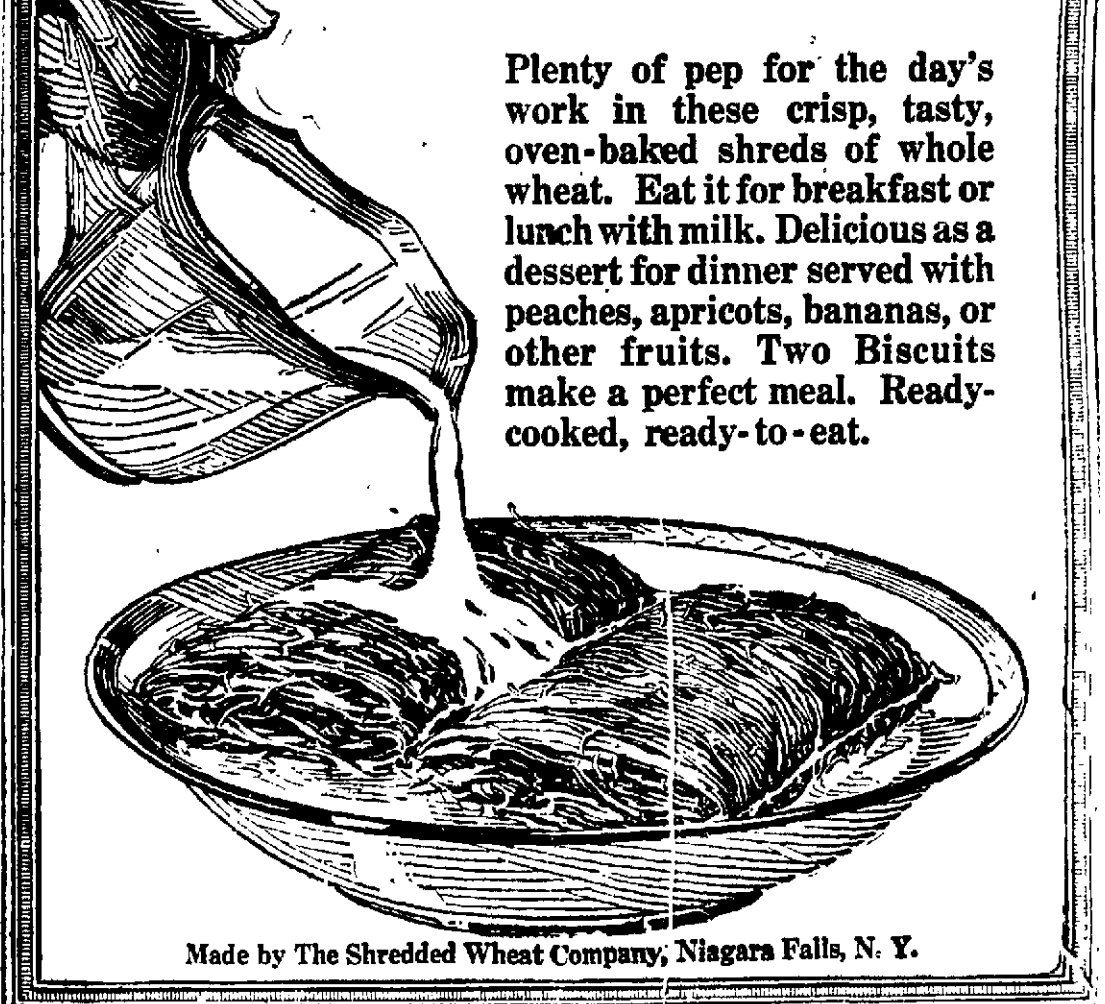

To be sure you get pure, pasteurized milk with a large proportion of cream, ask us to leave a bottle at your door.

Why Teeth Show
In pictures—and everywhere today
Millions are removing film

Have you noted how most pictures now show pretty teeth? And how countless people, wherever you look, show beautiful teeth when they smile nowadays?

Those are results of this new way of teeth cleaning, which millions now employ. Now we urge you to try it at our cost, and to start today.

Try combating film

Until late years, nearly all teeth were kept clouded by a film. And 49 in 50 people suffered from film attacks.

Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. It forms the basis of dingy coats, including tartar, unless you constantly combat it. Stains are absorbed by that film.

It also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

These most tooth troubles are now traced to film. And all those troubles were constantly increasing, despite all care of the teeth.

Old ways ineffective

No ordinary tooth paste effectively fights film. In fact, tooth pastes based on soap and chalk even make the film more clinging.

No dental science has for years been seeking film combatants. Two effective methods have been found. Able authorities proved them by many careful tests. And now leading dentists almost the world over advise their daily use.

A new-type tooth paste has been created, based on modern research. The name is Pepsodent. In that tooth paste are embodied those two film combatants—one to curdle the film, one to remove it.

Careful people of fifty nations are now using this new method, largely by dental advice. To millions of homes it is bringing a new dental era.

Pepsodent
PAT. OFF.
REG. U.S.
The New-Day Dentifrice
Now advised by leading dentists the world over

Two other new effects

Pepsodent brings two other effects which dental science has now proved essential.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits on teeth which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize the acids which cause decay.

The ordinary tooth paste brings just opposite effects. It decreases these two great tooth-protecting agents which Nature has provided. Pepsodent, with every use, gives them manifold effect.

Thus to millions of people in every clime Pepsodent has brought new beauty, new protection. The benefits will be life-lasting. Tooth conditions among whole races are being altered by this method.

Vote for Official Paper at foot of ballot

We ask you to vote for the TRIBUNE because—

First:—FOR STATE LEGALS, you desire the greatest publicity throughout the state.

The TRIBUNE gives you that publicity in abundance over any other county paper.

Second:—FOR COUNTY LEGAL MATTERS, you should vote for the paper that most completely reaches the people of that county.

The TRIBUNE reaches more people in Burleigh county than any paper published in the county.

Third:—FOR CITY MATTERS you should select the paper that furnishes the greatest number of people in the city with the news of the official business of that city.

In Bismarck the TRIBUNE is the only paper that is read by practically all of the people.

If you believe it is the part of wisdom to let the people know how your city, your county and your state are conducting their business

Take Motherless Infants to Homes
Mrs Geo B Newcomb, Matron of the Humane and Society for the Friendless left on No 4 today for Chicago with three motherless infants, one a tiny baby from Dunn county and the other two are sisters from Foster county.
Mrs Newcomb will be met in Chicago by relatives of the babies from the St Louis and points out of Detroit who will become their foster mothers. The plan followed in handling friendless children by the above society is threefold: first correction of conditions in the home so children may remain. If impossible to attain that then arrange among relatives to take or failing there to place them among strangers for adoption. These three little tots have fathers but being unable to properly care for them voluntarily surrendered them to relatives through the humane society.

Mrs. Newcomb will be assisted by Mrs. Porter who has been visiting her son's family, Chester Porter of Broadway and who is returning to her home in Wabash, Indiana.

Returns to City.
C. W. Deakin, formerly an operator for the Western Union here and recently in Grand Forks, has returned to Bismarck as leased wire operator of the Associated Press in The Tribune office, succeeding H. D. Kenyon.

TO THE VOTERS OF BURLEIGH COUNTY:
As you probably know I am a candidate for the office of Register of Deeds of Burleigh County and I am asking your support at the polls on November 7th.
Myself and all of my family have lived in this County ever since I was born and we have always done all of our trading with the local business men of Bismarck.
My opponent, Mr. Penwarden, has for many years been occupying different offices at the Court House. I have never before asked for public office and feel now that it is only fair that you should support me for this office.
I was raised on a farm and would be on the farm today but for the reason that I am physically unable to carry on farming. I feel that I am a friend of both the farmer and the business men and also of the men who work in the shops and in the business places as well. I am unable to go around to see the voters personally and therefore take this means of letting you know that I am running for Register of Deeds and asking for your support.
Yours truly,

A Vicious Omission
VOTERS' PRACTICE SHEETS have been posted in the city of Bismarck, These sheets contains three columns; namely
REPUBLICAN? DEMOCRAT INDIVIDUAL
NOMINATIONS.
In the Republican column are the names of candidates that were high in the June primaries.
In the Democratic column are (only) those names that opposed successful candidates that were in favor of the FARMER'S PROGRAM.
The Individual column is left BLANK.
I appeal to all good thinking people in Burleigh County. If you were giving a pupil a PRACTICE SHEET, wouldn't you give him the entire sheet?
Are the people that arranged and printed this PRACTICE SHEET afraid of you selecting one or more of the names that SHOULD appear in the INDIVIDUAL COLUMN?
As a matter of fact the writer only sees a few names in the REPUBLICAN COLUMN that has any right to be there. The balance are all fusionists and should be in a column by themselves.
But what about INDIVIDUAL NOMINATIONS? Don't you think that the voter should have a chance to PRACTICE on him? He does not have to do the WILL of the other fellow, whether he thinks it is right or not, for fear of being called a TRAITOR.
I quote one sentence of the PRACTICE SHEET: "The ballots that will be handed to you on election day, will a trifle larger than the fac similes printed on this sheet." Had they said on this fac simile, they would have been liable (if they are) for misrepresentation.
I don't know who was responsible for this sheet but will again quote from it. "Don't forget to mark (X) after the I. V. A. candidate for official newspaper when you vote on election day."
The writer has an idea who is behind it and wants to go on record as calling him or them, Dirty Politicians.
Do you voters want to vote for people who will, by omission, leave something out of a measure in the Legislature that would be of benefit to you?
Look in the INDIVIDUAL NOMINATIONS column and vote for the candidates that have nothing to cover up, by OMISSION.

BOOST FOR
A Greater Bismarck
TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 7th, 1922
How can the citizens and taxpayers do something to help themselves on election day?
The last legislature passed a bill of vital interest and importance to the taxpayers of Bismarck. The Nonpartisan Senate passed it promptly and Lynn J. Frazier signed the bill. It met with persistent opposition from the I. V. A. House, but was finally passed by two staunch independent republicans from the western part of the State, friends of Bismarck. For the voters information we quote the main objects of the law:
" * * * * and the State of North Dakota is hereby authorized to engage in the enterprise of furnishing electricity for power and lighting purposes to the inhabitants and public of the City of Bismarck and of the County of Burleigh and to supply electricity to all buildings owned or leased by the State of North Dakota in said City and County and to the street car line; and the industrial Commission of the state of North Dakota shall manage and operate the same.
In fixing the rate for current furnished for power and lighting purposes to be charged to private consumers the Industrial Commission shall have in view the lowest rate consistent with the furnishing of adequate service."
Why hasn't the present Industrial Commission, consisting of Governor Nestos, Attorney General Johnson and Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor Kitchen done something toward putting this law into effect in order to relieve the consumers of the Hughes Electric Company from the exorbitant rates now being charged them? It has been shown before the Railroad Commission that the Hughes Electric Company have exacted from our citizens more than $42,000.00 in the past year in excess of what it is entitled to, yet the Industrial Commission sits idly by and permits the citizens of this city to be mulcted when it has a plain and speedy remedy to correct the evil.
Why has the present I. V. A. Board of Administration had the new Memorial Building wired by the Hughes Electric Company? Why are they buying electricity from the Hughes Electric Company when they have their own plant furnishing light and power for the Capitol Building and the Street Car line?
The City of Bismarck is in need of better street lighting service. Its streets at night resemble the City of the Dead. The road to the bridge and the beautiful new bridge itself requires proper lighting. The City of Bismarck is unable at this time to pay for this service, especially at the rates now charged. It is financially embarrassed and the City Commission has reached the maximum levy and no further service can be expected from that source. The private consumer of electricity is being penalized every day by the Hughes Electric Company through exorbitant rates and those in high official positions wink at the situation and permit this graft to be fostered. For what reason one can only guess.
What is the remedy for the consumers and tax payers of Bismarck? There is one and it should be exerted at the polls next Tuesday, November 7th. Your interests are paramount to the interests of a few politicians who appear to be standing in with certain public utilities in this City. Read the law on page 68 of the laws of North Dakota for 1921, then vote for your interests and cast your ballot for William Lemke for Governor, F. H. Ulsrud for Attorney General and for Senator B. F. Baker for Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor, men who made the fight in the legislature to pass this law in your interests and will no longer permit the statute to be a dead-letter on the books, but will put life into it and money in your pocket and will not longer permit the Hughes Electric Company and a clique dominated by it to work politics at your expense while you are paying the fiddler. Lest you forget Victor Anderson and L. E. Heaton who are now candidates on the Legislative ticket, voted against this bill and against your interests. It is important, therefore, for the voters of Bismarck to place in the legislature men who will fight and vote for the interest of their own City. If elected you can depend upon the honor, integrity and loyalty of General E. A. Williams, R. L. Best, citizens of Bismarck and Mr. O. R. Vold of Regan to give the best there is in them for your interests and not to the interests of private corporations. Cast your vote for them and the law which is quoted herein will not remain still-born on the statute books.
Signed,
WILLIAM LEMKE.

F. H. ULSRUD.
